

Flood Buckets

This is a great project for a church or group activity. You can make these ahead of time and store them or let us know and we'll take them for you!

Each of these items are placed into a 5-gallon with a lid. It is also a great idea to write some words of encouragement on the outside of the bucket. I've seen them done by kids from VBS or Sunday School classes and they draw pictures. Scripture verses are also a good idea. You can even print and tape labels on them to let people know who you are and that you are praying for them. Get creative!!
